Money is scarce in the pockets of those the whitewash used at Washington on who earn it by labor, but it is not scarce in the country. ### A Deadly Weapon Against Protection.

The tariff plank of the Democratic platform has not only placed in the hands of Cleveland's campaigners a deadly weapon against protectionism, but will open the way to a discussion of economic subjects rapidly coming to the front in practical politics. Political warfare, through the press or on the stump, is rarely confined to the lines laid down in the platforms of the contending parties. The people are usually in advancof their platforms. For once a National Democratic convention has frankly avowed current Democratic opinion on the tariff. A tariff for revenue only is the historic Democratic faith. From that ground the protection superstition has been attacked in season and out of season, and this in face of the fact that neither in Mr. Cleyeland's messages nor the party platforms has there been a sentence which could fairly be interpreted as favoring a tariff of that character. There will be no more straddles on this question either by Presidential candidates or nominating conventions .- Chicago Herald.
